PROGRAMS

URBAN SUSTAINABILITY (LYON)

How can we design the sustainable city of the future? You will answer this question with the program of Lumière University Lyon 2. Drawing from sociological, geographical, and technological perspectives, learn how green urbanism and local policies can help ensure a good quality of life for an ever-growing urban population.

MOUNTAINS IN A CHANGING WORLD (GRENOBLE)

Welcome to Grenoble, capital of the French Alps! Immerse yourself in the mountains and explore the forces and powers at play, see how time, temperatures, wind, and water affect them. With this Bootcamp from Université Grenoble Alpes you will gain insights through case studies, field trips and conversations with researchers. Don't forget your hiking gear!

SUSTAINABLE MICRO-ARCHITECTURE (PARIS)

This Bootcamp takes you on a journey to build a sustainable shelter! With guidance from ENSAD (Higher College of Decorative Arts) designers, create your own concept of micro-architecture and imagine its purpose (animal or traveler sanctuary, performance structure, etc.). You will work on your project in collaboration with French design students and learn modern design techniques.

SUSTAINABLE FOOD (DIJON)

Achieve a broad understanding of what "sustainable food" means and what's at stake for our planet, our society, our health. This Bootcamp organized by the University of Burgundy will allow you to take a step back and look at the historical, sociological, and economic aspects of food. Explore the different modes of production, distribution and consumption that best protect our environment and respect human rights.
